The sample application in Django

Based on a set of exercises (tutorial) located at `https://docs.djangoproject.com/en/3.0/intro/tutorial01/` build an application that allows you to create and conduct polls. The application should consist of two parts: the public, where people view polls and vote in them and the administration, which allows you to add, edit and delete polls.

You can use `pythonanywhere.com` as an environment for building applications. You must create a free "beginner" account.
